

Participant Application and Release Form (Form Revised Jan, 2018)

Israel Mission Trip by Ruth Israel Initiative (RII)

RUTH ISRAEL
INITIATIVE

RII Short Term Mission trips are not designed as “typical tourist vacations.” Most trips include travel to remote areas where logistical requirements for volunteers may involve unconventional modes of transportation and/or accommodations. In addition, RII Short Term Mission trips will contain the full range of risks and inconveniences resulting from both travel and volunteer service: physical labor, timing delays, frustrations, surprises, etc. Because of the circumstances involved with these trips, we want to make certain you understand that the circumstances mentioned above are a part of this type of experience.

As a necessary precaution, Ruth Israel Initiative requires that each program participant understand and execute the following release and agreement.

After approval by the board, all personal information is kept in a locked file box. Down payment will be returned if not approved for this trip by the board. You are welcome to reapply at a later date.

This application should be mailed with your down payment to:
